Subject: Riverview Energy comments and responses

Good afternoon,

One of the times we talked, you asked about this, and I think you must have discussed it with Jenny Acker, too. In any event, the attached clip from our Addendum to the Technical Support Document includes what I think of as the "technical" and "organization" comments we received and the responses.

To explain some of the sources:

(b)(6) is a Southwest Indiana resident, a retired environmental compliance manager, who provides comments

Earthjustice is a Philadelphia-based organization that submitted comments on behalf of the Sierra Club and two South Indiana groups, Valley Watch and Southwestern Indiana Citizens for Quality of Life. Valley Watch and SICQL submitted additional comments of their own.

Dr. Sahu and Mr. Gebhart are contractors for Earthjustice.

The ones labeled "EPA" you will probably recognize. I did revise the response to EPA Modeling Comment 6 to deal with the issue about the sulfur recovery units you helped us find a few weeks ago.

Some of the responses cite what we are calling Response to General Statement n. This is the way we are trying to deal with the very similar comments submitted by a number for people and groups. I could not include those general issue because the language for all of them is not finished yet. I think the titles attached to each of the general statements will at the least show where those are heading.

Please let me know if there are any questions.
